GERMANY BALKS AT WORD 'ILLEGAL'

Negotiations in Lusitania Case Again Said to Be Critical

BERLIN TAKES STAND

Note Delivered By Bernstorff Believed in Washington to Create a Grave Situation.

Washington, Feb. 5. — The one word "illegal," as differently interpreted in the United States and Germany, protrudes from the tentative draft of the Lusitania agreement perfected by Ambassador von Bernstorff and Secretary Lansing, as the stumbling block which has caused Berlin to refer to the negotiations as having reached a crisis and Washington to characterize the situation as grave.

Germany's answer, presented to Secretary Lansing yesterday by Count von Bernstorff, proposes, instead of an out-and-out admission of illegality of the method of sumarine warfare used by the German naval authorities in sinking the liner, an acceptance of liability for the loss of neutral lives, which Berlin hopes will satisfy the United States and still not bind Germany from continuing the submarine campaign.

German officials believe that their previous promise to discontinue sinking unresisting merchantmen without warning brings the submarine campaign within the pale of international law and that any inclusion of that phase in the Lusitania agreement is unnecessary and humiliating to the Imperial Government.

The word "illegal" in the draft the Germany Ambassador transmitted to his Government as meeting all the contentions of the United States is taken to have been regarded in Berlin as being susceptible to application not to the Lusitania case alone, but to the entire submarine campaign.

That is the only explaation which officials here can find for the statement of Dr. Zimmerman, Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs, that "the United States suddenly made new demands which it is impossible for us to accept."

Secretary Lansing declares that the position of the United States is unchanged, and the German Ambassador knew of no demands which were not embodied in the proposal he sent to Berlin.

It is known that the only change the Berlin Foreign Office has made in the agreement drawn by the Secretary and the Ambassador is to substitute for the word "illegal" a phrase which, while assuming liability for the lives of neutrals lost on the Lusitania, does not admit of construction into prohibition of submarine warfare.

The dispatch the Ambassador received and presented to the Secretary was very brief and covered only that one point. Otherwise the document is unchanged, as it was drawn to meet all the contentions of the United States.

After the Ambassador's visit to the State Department yesterday Secretary Lansing declared "the situation is unchanged."

That may authoritatively be stated to represent the situation accurately. It had become no more grave, and by that fact it has become no less grave. Its status has not materially changed and it may remain so for for or five days at least while President Wilson and Secretary Lansing consider Germany's answer fully.

In a like manner, it may be stated authoritatively that it does not follow that either a completely satisfactory settlement or an open break must follow at the end of that time. The negotiations may continue.

Berlin via London, Feb. 5.—Information indicates that under no circumstances will Germany admit that the sinking of the Lusitania was an illegal act.

The new instructions forwarded to Ambassador von Bernstorff, according to this information, contain simply one phrase of the new formulation of the proposed note of regret for the sinking of the Lusitania.

The suggested sentence is short, consisting of only eight words, and does not contain the word "illegal." it represents the extreme limit of Germany's concessions in the Lusitania case.

Dr. Alfred Zimmerman, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in an interview expressed the hope that the new formula forwarded to Ambassador von Bernstorff would offer a possible basis of settlement.

However, he made no effort to conceal the gravity of the situation, and was most explicit in his statements that Germany had reached the extreme limit of concessions and under no circumstances would concede the illegality of her submarine campaign in the war area.

"The Government is willing to do everything in its power, and has done everything in its power, to meet American wishes," he said, "but there are limits beyond which even friendship snaps.

"I do not understand America's course. We had thought the submarine issue settled and the Lusitania question on the way to arrangement—had agreed to pay indemnity and all that—when the United States suddenly made its new demands, which it is impossible for us to accept. You must no push your demands too far. You must not attempt to humiliate Germany.

BLAME CAPTAIN OF APPAM

Sailors of the British Steamer Say Skipper Was Warned

Norfolk, Va., Fer. 5—When the Old Dominion steamship Hamilton arrived here yesterday afternoon from Newport News, with the crew of 151 of the steamship Appam, which was brought into Hampton Roads Tuesday as a prize ship by a prize crew of 22 men from the German converted cruiser Moewe, virtually all of the contingent, except the officers, were in a state of near mutiny against Capt. S. G. Harrison, whom they accused of losing the ship because he ignored warnings given to him in Dakam, West Africa about the danger of German raiders in the vicinity of the Carnary Islands.

According to officers and a number of men of the crew, Captain Harrison was advised before he left Africa with a cargo valued at $1,000,000, to keep at least 300 miles away from the islands. He disregarded this advice, it was said, and approached as close as three miles, his capture by the Moewe following within 24 hours Warnings had been received from the British Admiralty, it was stated by some of the men, that the islands were dangerous for merchant ships, and outside lanes were advised for traders. The men referred to the captain as the "lubber who lost the ship."

When asked about this report, Captain Harrison shrugged his shoulders and remarked, that there was nothing in it.

MOVIE BOY'S BANDIT PLOT

Arrested, He Admits Unique Disguises Were for Bank Robbery

Norristown, Pa., Feb. 5—A peculiar means of disguise was to be used by a boy, who says he is Norman Newdorz, of Lancaster, and who is in custody here as a suspected would-be bank robber. His face and head were bandaged and two revolvers were found in his possession, and his purchase of them aroused the suspicion of a merchant, who informed the police.

The police say the boy admitted he had purchased the revolvers because he intended to hold up a bank; that it was his purpose to go into a bank draw the revolvers, demand all the money in the bank and make a getaway a la movie, after he had required one bank official to bind and gag the others, when he would bind the remaining one.

Newdorz says he did not intend to operate in Norristown; he would turn the trick when opportunity afforded.

He was well dressed, carried a gold watch and had something less than $20. He had a box of cartridges and a bottle of iodine, with which he is said to have intended coloring his face to further disguise himself. He admitted he had left his home in Chestnut street, Lancaster. without the knowledge or consent of his parents.

When the gauze was removed from his face and head the police found there was not a scratch that needed to be bandaged.

PRESIDENT MAY VISIT THE SOUTH

Panning Second Trip in Support of His Defense Program

INVITATIONS POUR IN

Executive, Pleased With Results in West, to Set Out Again Unless Complications Prevent.

Washington, Feb. 5—President Wilson returned from his speaking trip for preparedness yesterday so well pleased with its results that he probably will make another soon, unless the Lusitania negotiations or some other feature of the foreign situation develops a critical stage preventing his absence from the capital.

Although no arrangements have been made, officials indicate that the possibilities of the Lusitania situation presented the only obstacle likely to influence the President against a second trip If he goes, he will visit the South and possibly some Far Western States.

Mr. Wilson is convinced that his Middle Western trip was a success. He found at the White House many telegrams and letters from the section he traversed telling him so, and Senators and Representatives had received many similar messages. The President has been invited to visit Virginia, Kentucky, Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas, as well as States in the Northwest and Far West. His advisers have told him there was need in the South particularly for a special effort in favor of his preparedness plan.

The President will not lose the advantage in the preparedness discussion he believes he has gained by his middle Western trip, it was indicated today, but will press for action by Congress on the army and navy bills as soon as possible. He expects to hold a series of conferences with Senators and Representatives during the next week.

It seemed improbable last night that the President would leave on another trip before February 10. He has a mass of routine business which accumulated during his absence from Washington, and it is understood the Lusitania and the Appam cases will be given his close attention for the next few days.

It was generally understood that the entire question of another trip hinged on the outcome of the Lusitania negotiations. Should it be favorable, he is almost certain to go, but should there be any really serious developments he will give up the plan.

The President got into communication with Secretary Lansing as soon as he reached the White House yesterday, and while no announcement was made, it was understood th Lusitania case was foremost among the subjects discussed

WADES INTO RIVER TO DIE.

Well-Dressed and Comely Young Woman Strange Suicide.

Woodbury, N. J. Feb. 5.—The body of an unknown woman, about 35 years old and well dressed, was taken from the Delaware at National Park, Thurs day evening and brought to the morgue in this city. There was nothing about the body to definitely identify it, but a silver watch bears the initials "E. M. G." and there was a gold bracelet on one of the wrists.

The woman had been seen to board a trolley car at Washington Park, and arriving at National Park, she went directly to the river, wading out until the water was deep enought to overwhelm her. Efforts were made to rescue her, but by the time a boat had put out and the body recovered life was extinct.

VOTE ISLANDS FREE

Senate Passes Measure Last Night By a Vote of 52 to 24

The Philippine self-government bill was passed by the Senate last night by a vote of 52 to 24. It is the first administration measure to pass Congress. As finally adopted. its essential features have been substantially modified. It was predicted last night that the House would reshape it to conform to the President's ideas and produce a measure that will better protect the interests both of the United State and the Filipinos.

The vote was on strict lines, so far as the Democrats were concerned, but six Republicans drew away from their colleagues and voted for the bill. They were Borah, Clapp, Kenyon, La Follette, Norris and Works.

The substitute of Senator Hitchcock which represented the views of the administ ation were rejected by a vote of 52 to 25.

Senator Stone offered an amendment that would have eliminated the provision giving the President power to extend the period within which independence must be granted and restoring the provision in the orginal bill guaranteeing the neutrality of the islands, but it was rejected, 60 to 17.

He declared it had been in every Democratic platform for years and yet here was a proposition in a Democratic bill to permit the President to send the Philippine question back to Congress. He declared that the party platform pledged the party to settle the whole problem once and for all and in solemn tones the Missouri Senator warned his colleagues that there might be a Republican President in the White House.

Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, made a bitter attack on the Democratic policy in the Philippines.

"If," he said, "these people fight each other, the Democratic party will be responsible. If other nations fight over them, it will date back to your cowardly act of today."

IN MEMORIAM

SCHAFE—In sad but loving remembrance of our beloved husband and father who was called to rest one year ago today, February 5, 1915.
We often sit and think of thee, dear father,
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
We did not know the pain you bore
We did not see you die
We only know you went away
And couldn't say good bye.
His Wife and Children.

SCHAFE—In sad but loving remembrance of my devoted father who was called to rest one year ago today, February 5, 1915.
Could I have seen you at the last.
And held your dying hand,
And heard the last sigh from your heart
I wouldn't feel so sad.

JUDGES' PENSION ACT DENOUNCED

House of Delegates Rejects All Amendments to Repeal Bill

UPHOLDS PRESIDENT

Prohibitionists Prepare Supplemental Bill Limiting Shipment—Quart Feature May be Optional.

Richmond, Feb. 5—After voting down amendments ranging from unconditional repeal to virtual confirmation of the present law, the House of Delegates yesterday advanced to its third reading and engrossment the Buck-Hundley bill, providing for the repeal of the act of 1914 pensioning judges of the Supreme Court of Appeals with the committee amendment exempting from the application of the new bill judges who may retire in 1916 and 1917.

The bill will pass, unless there is a change from the present temper of of the House, by a substantial majority. The Republican minority is voting solidly for repeal, and has forced a coalition on this measure with the majority members who regard the pensioning of judges as opposed to the best public practice.

Undaunted by the defeat administered to the "preparedness" resolution on Thursay by a coalition majority voting in a body. Delegate Leedy, of Page, introduced a modified prepareness resolution carrying the name of fifty-two members as patrons. Delegates who joined in defeating the resolution on the day before attacked the new measure as inadmissible on the ground that it provided in substance what the House has already refused to ratify. A motion to commit the resolution under the rules was defeated by a vote of 60 to 25. The resolution was then adopted by a vote og 61 to 16.

Delegate Leedy's resolution follows:

"Whereas Virginia, as a sovereign State, but integral part of this great nation, has never, and will never, justify war, except as acting in the defense of well-defined human rights, and to this end only, has always, and does now, believe in preparedness—

"Therefore, be it resolved. That the House of Delegates of the General Assembly of Virginia hereby indorses the action of our great President in stirring the minds of the people of this country to a sense of duty along the lines indicated, and that they commend the untiring efforts of our Committees on Military Affairs in both houses of our national Congress to reach the desired end without committing the United States of America to militarism.

"Resolved further, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Virginia delegation in both houses of the Congress of the United States."

Shortly before this action in the House the Senate adopted, after a debate that lasted an hour, a joint preparedness resolution offered by Senator Goolrick indorsing the administration's program for national protection in unreserved language.

Under a supplementary prohibition bill now in the course of preparation, the separate cities, towns and counties of the Commonwealth will be given the right to adopt by popular vote prohibitive enactments preventing the shipment into such communities of even the one quart of liquor a month allowed by the omnibus Mapp bill.

The decision to frame and offer such a bill, it is stated authoritatively, has been reached by the prohibition forces, and the measure will be introduced in the next few days.

Rome, Feb. 5.—The Roumanian army is nine-tenths mobilized by the decree issued Thursday, calling to the colors the class of 1896 in advance of their regular schedule. More than half a million troops are now massed along the Bulgarian and Hungarian frontiers.

Private advices received here today report that Roumania is ready to intervene on the side of the allies at the first opportune moment.

FAVOR SCHOOL CHANGES.

Legislative Committee Recommends Resolution Amending Constitution

Richmond, Feb. 5.— Embodying radical changes in the method by which the State Board of Education is elected and the manner in which textbooks for use in the public schools are selected, the joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution, introduced in the House by Delegates Rolston, Willians, Valentine and Smith, was yesterday afternoon reported favorably by the Committee on Schools and Colleges.

Of scarcely less importance than the other features of the resolution is a provision under which the General Assembly may, in its discretion, allow the trustees of each school division to appoint the division superintendent from a list of eligibles furnished by the State Board of Education, in the event that, at any time, the school trustees of Virginia are elected by the vote of the people. A bill designed to bring the trustees directly under the control of the electorate is now pending before the General Assembly.

Breaking away from the constitutional provision for the election of three practical educators by the Senate to serve on the State Board of Education with the Governor, the Attorney-General and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the joint resolution proposes to have the people elect four educators at the same time the Governor is elected, to serve for a like term. The list of eligibles is to be made up in the same manner as now provided by the Constitution, with the State normal schools for women at Harrisonburg, Fredericksburg, and Radford added to the list of institutions from which to choose. The school for the Deaf and Blind at Staunton, is cut off the list.

The vexed question of schoolbooks adoption is also provided for in the resolution. Books under its provisions, may be changed in 1925, and every ten years thereafter, on the recommendation of the textbook commission, composed of five practical educators to be appointed by the Governor. In the interim a special commission, also appointees of the Governor, will investigate changes suggested by the State Board of Education. The board may effect changes on the recommendation of either commission.

Another joint resolution introduced by Delegate James H. Price, of Richmond, proposing that section 138 of the Constitution be changed to read: "The General Assembly may, in its discretion, provide for compulsory education," was also reported out favorably. The section as it now reads limits the age from eight to twelve years, and exempts children unsound in mind or body and those who can read or write.

GIRL ACCUSES TWO MORE

Police Rounding Up Abductors and Alleged Assailants of Daughter of Minister.

New York, Feb. 4—Vigorous police efforts to round up the band of white slavers who held Marie Klein, the 18 year-old daughter of the Rev. Charles A. Klein, pastor of the Bethany Reformed Church, in an outrageous captivity since January 1, led to the arrest of two more men said to be members of it.

Antonio Feroni, 25 years old and married, who describes himself as a salesman, was taken into custody Wednesday night.

Marie Klein accused him, after her alleged original abductor, Vincenzo Neapolitano, had turned her over to the control of the white slave band, of taking her to a shanty at Gunhill road and Holland avenue and forcing her, under threats, into the society of other men.

Peter Blanca, 21 years old, a stamper, was arrested at his home. He with Neapolitano, is charged with having disposed of the jewelry of the mother and sister of Mrs. Klein, which Neapolitano is alleged to have induced the girl to take when she left home with him in the belief he was to marry her. The jewelry was valued at $400. The detectives say the men pawned it for $85.

TEXAN HEARS FROM HIS HOME

Congressman Dies is Told His Constituents Favor Defense Plan.

SAUNDERS TO FIGHT IT

Fifth District Congressman Issues Statement Reiterating His Opposition to Bigger Army.

Washington, Feb. 5—Representative Martin Dies, of Texas, one of the leaders of the "anti-preparedness" clique of Democrats in the House who is openly fighting President Wilson's national defense program has "heard from home." Mr. Dies represents the Beaumont district.

A telegram signed by 225 business men of Beaumont, was received by him, in which it was stated that the majority of the people of his district favored the United States strengthening its army and navy for defensive purposes and desired him to uphold the hands of the President.

Mr. Dies, in a reply to the telegram challenged this statement and declared if a majority of his constituents were in favor of the "better preparedness" legislation he would resign his seat in Congress. Mr. Dies did not suggest how the sentiment of his constituents might be determined, but Texas in Washington declare his answer will certainly bring him opposition for re-lelection.

Representative Saunders, of Virginia who will be the only member from his state to oppose the President has given out an interview in which he declared his stand had not been affected by the President's speeches in the West.

"The President in his speeches has stated that no emergencies have a risen for his preparedness policy and that there is no immediate danger," said Judge Saunders. "This war will make another such war most unlikely, he believes, adding that it will do more to promote universal world peace than anything that could happen. Therefore, I do not see in these arguments any reason why this country should embark upon a program which would result in the greatest armament in the world.

"So far as the President's statement that we should have the greatest navy in the world is concerned, it will result in the abandonment of the $1,000,000,000 defense program and the substitution therefor of a $2,000,000,000 program, Hereto all the experts who have appeared before your committees have mentioned England as a possible antagonist, and insisted that there was no occasion to develop a navy comparable to that of the United Kingdom. Why should our navy, therefore, be placed on a standing with that of Great Britain? The President's latest utterances on this subject, in my judgment, represent a decided advance over anything yet attempted in reference to a preparedness program"

JILTED AT 60, HE KILLS GIRL.

Disappointed Suitor Then Shoots Self in Head.

Douglass, Mass., Feb. 5. — Miss Lena B. Keyser, of Schenectady, N. Y., was shot and killed here yesterday by John H. Pierce, of Delenson, N. Y., who afterward shot himself, according to the police. The couple were about to be married when Miss Keyser's mother appeared and urged her not to go through with the ceremony. Physicians said Pierce probably would die.

Pierce returned Thursday from Schenectady, where he had been employed, accompanied by Miss Keyser, and obtained a marriage license. The woman's mother arrived later and told her daughter that Pierce had been married before and had not obtained a divorce.

Pierce who is 60 years old, shot the girl, through the head, killing her instantly, and then fired a bullet into his head.

SEGREGATION CASE HEARD

Judge Thornton Reserves Decision in Falls Church Litigation

After hearing the Falls Church segregation case, Judge Thornton, in circuit court at Fairfax, reserved decision until he should have an opportunity to visit Falls Church and observe for himself the location of the boundary lines which under the segregation ordinance of the town are intended to separate the white and colored residents.

The case is one of wide interest as affecting the powers of town councils under the segregation statute of Virginia.

The complainants —eight colored residents of Fairfax county—recently filed a petition asking that the court "correct or cause to be corrected the map of the segregation of Falls Church made in pursuance of a resolution of the council of the town January 11, 1915," and also cause the council to make a correction of the segregation district so as to conform to the provisions of the act of the assembly of 1912.

It was alleged in the complaint that the "segregated district" adopted by the council of Falls Church in attempted compliance with the act of the assembly of Virginia of 1912 is not a valid segregation compliance with the act, and that the map prepared by said council alleging to show the boundaries of the "segregation district" had not been prepared in accordance with the provisions of the act."

The defendants contend the relief prayed for, in part at least, is beyond the jurisdiction of the court, in that the complainants ask the court to "also cause said council to make a correction of said act of the assembly."

It was declared further that the bill "is such that if sustained would tend to a multiplicity of suits, because of its uncertainty as to who the complainants represent and their respective interests."

GERMANY AND THE UNITED STATES

The newspapers today have contained leading articles on the present strained relations between the United States and Germany. According to dispatches from Berlin, the imperial government has gone as far as possible in attempting to meet the demands of America, and that there is likelihood of a snap if Uncle Sam continues to press the Kaiser in the Lusitania matter. These dispatches have, of course, caused some flutter in the United States and Germany. There is reason to believe they were intended by the Kaiser for home consumption, and are not to be regarded seriously by the United States.

We never have seriously considered the probability of a clash between the United States and Germany—certainly not at this time—so long as relations can be carried on by level-headed people. We know President Wilson and his coadjutors are of this genus, and we prefer to believe those responsible for the destiny of Germany are also of the same class. It will be noticed that the last German reply to America's representations contains still further concessions. The fact that the Germans are balking at the use of the world "illegal" in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania is not an insurmountable difficulty. After warning American citizens to keep off the Lusitania on her unfortunate voyage early last summer implying that Germany would not be responsible for the outcome should any of such lose their lives, the Kaiser has offered to pay indemnity, which virtually implies that the torpedoing of the steamer, under the circumstances, was illegal.

As stated above the last not makes important concessions and is believed to have brought the two governments very close to a settlement, but whether it is a full compliance with the terms submitted by President Wilson and Secretary Lansing cannot be determined until the language of the new German communication has been carefully weighed and analyzed by them.

The understanding is that if the language contained in the communication is not wholly acceptable to the President that Count Von Bernstorff now has full latitude to effect a settlement. In any event it is believed in Washington that the danger of a break in diplomatic relations between the two countries over the Lusitania issue has been removed by the concession now made by the German government, and there is strong prospect of the settlement of the controversy within the next week, without further reference of the [illegible] to the [illegible] government.

DOMESTIC EDUCATION.

Twelve enameled washtubs have been installed in the Gilbert High School at Winsted, Conn., and girl student's will be instructed in washing and ironing. A home nursing department, furnished as a bedroom, has also been provided.

Alexandria is now rejoicing in a modern high school building, and the Parents-Teachers' Association are making suggestions to the members of the City School Board with the view of installing certain equippage and adopting training which is demanded in the twentieth century. We do not know whether any of the female students will balk at the thought of being taught how to wash and iron or to be trained in the patient occupation of nursing, but it may be pertinent to call attention to some historical facts in connection with princesses of other days who did not think it beneath their dignity to wash, keep sheep, etc.

The story of an Egyptian princess finding the infant Moses in a basket of bulrushes floating about the Nile in danger of crocodiles has been familiar to us from infancy. Our English version says Pharaoh's daughter went down to the river to wash herself. The word "herself", it will be noticed, is in italic, which means it is not in the original Hebrew, but was inserted by the translators in order to make what they believed to be the sense of the paragraph. But some scholars have suggested that the word should have been omitted, as it was often the custom of princesses to wash their own clothes and that Pharaoh's daughters had gone with her maidens to the river for this purpose.

The name of the princess is said to have been Thermuthis. Homer in the Odessy represents Nausicaa, daughter of Alcinous, king of the Phaeacians, in company with her maidens, employed at the seaside washing her own clothes, and those of her five brothers. While thus employed they find Ulysses just driven ashore, after having been shipwrecked, destitute of clothing and every necessary of life. The princess is represented as piling her clothes on a carriage drawn by several mules and driven to the place of washing.

These daughters of Thermuthis and Nausicaa who will grace the Winsted high school have noble examples to follow.

SERIES OF CONFLAGRATIONS

Several serious fires have occurred in parts of the United States and Canada during the past forty-eight hours, in which a number of persons have lost their lives. The partial destruction of the Canadian Parliament House at Ottawa was followed almost immediately by a disastrous conflagration in New York and another at Atlantic City where a hotel was burned.

Shrieking from fear, twenty-five insane patients were led from the burning municipal hospital for the insane and feeble-minded at AuBerry Farms near Philadelphia, early yesterday.

Fire swept through the village of Camden, a few miles west of Utica, N. Y., yesterday destroying many buildings. The loss was $200,000.

Fire early yesterday destroyed the Minor Block and the plant of the Waynesburg, Pa., Democrat-Messenger. The loss was $100,000.

Two five story structures in the business section of Troy, N. Y., were destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss was $100,000.

Fire broke out yesterday in the large plant of Grant, Holden, Graham, Ltd., at Ottawa, Canada, which is filling large war orders for the entente allies. The flames were confined to a factory building which is filled with trapaulins, woolens and military uniforms.

The Providence, R. I., Journal prefaced its story of the Ottawa Parliament building fire with the statement that the Journal three weeks ago notified the Department of Justice that they had received information directly through employes of the German Embassy that the Parliament house of Ottawa, Rideau Hall, the home of the governor general of Ottawa, and large munition plants in Ontario were to be the next objects of German attack on this continent in the order named.

Attorney General Gregory says he has no recollection of receiving such a communication.

The bomb theory is rejected, by Colonel Sherwood, Commissioner of Dominion Police at Ottawa, who insists that the conflagration was accidental.

The second of the series of state receptions which mark the White House social program this season was accomplished with unusual brilliance and distinction last evening, when the members of the Supreme Court were the guests of honor. The President and Mrs. Wilson returned from their Western trip in time to greet their distinguished guests at 9 o'clock, thirty minutes earlier than the hour which has prevailed at state receptions for some years.

At the triple war charity entertainment in the grand ballroom of the Plaza, New York, there were 166 detectives on the job, one for every six guests. The affair was very exclusive. It was estimated—by the detectives—that the jewels worn were worth $3,000,000. The detectives were organized into parties, according to their table reservations. Each made an inventory, as he watched, of the value of the jewels worn by the ladies in his particular group.

The Agenzie Nazionale of Rome learns that Germany is making colossal preparations for a naval offensive in the spring. She will have many ships of a new type capable of withstanding torpedo attacks and armed with guns of 42 and perhaps 50-centimeters. Convinced of the impossibility of obtaining a decisive victory on land, Germany will attempt a grand coup on the sea, risking everything in order to paralyze the approaching offensive of the allies.

Detective Sergeant Joseph Corbett arrested Frederick Breen in Harlem Police Court, yesterday on a charge of soliciting alms. A policeman told the magistrate that he had arrested West after he watched the latter stop several women with a plea for financial assistance. When West was searched the police said they found in his pockets six bankbooks showing deposits in as many Boston savings institutions, $105 in Postal Savings certificates, and a money order for $621. West's indicated cash capital was $13,792.

Legal papers, correspondence and other documents have been found in the archives of the Juarez custom house by Carranza officials which show conclusively that Villa had entered into an agreement with the Japanese government to permit the landing of Japanese troops on the west coast of Mexico, according to Carranza Consul Andres Garica and other Carranza officials. The permit for the landing of troops and the leasing of a bay on the west coast of Mexico was in exchange for a large monetary consideration, said to have been $1,000,000 in gold.

Plans for a suffrage parade, in which 20,000 woman suffragists are expected to participate in the hope of bringing about insertion of a "votes-for-women" plank in the Republican platform, were made public in Chicago in an announcement yesterday, by advocates of the suffrage cause. At a conference Wednesday with local leaders Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the national suffrage organization, discussed the plan to bring women from all sections of the United States to march in the parade to be held during the Republican National Convention here in June.

A formal request from the British government that the United States release the steamer Appam, now at Newport News, in accordance with the principle of international law expressed in Article 21 of the Hague convention of 1907 was presented to the State Department yesterday by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador. Though described in British embassy circles as a respectful demand, officials of the State Department, who examined the written communication, described it as being merely a suggestion that the United States consider the Hague convention in deciding the final disposition of the captured British liner.

MAKES SENATE LAUGH.

Swanson's Southern Accent Arouses Hilarity in Upper Branch Over Bourne Bill.

Washington Feb. 5. — Senator Swanson's Southern accent caused come hilarity in the Senate Thursday during a debate on the reference of the good roads bills, which has been passed by the House.

Senator Swanson had occasion to refer several times during the debate to the Bourne bill, recommended by a committee of which former Senator Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon, was chairman. He failed to make the "r" heard in Bourne's name, to the amusement of a number of Senators. Finally Senator Borah, of Idaho, arose and inquired:

"Who is this Bone."

A wave of laughter ran over the Senate, and Senator Swanson explained that he had reference to the Bourne bill.

ALL WRONG.

The Mistake is Made by Many Alexandria Citizens.

Look for the cause of backache.

To be cured you must know the cause.

If it's weak kidneys you must set the kidneys working right.

An Alexandria resident tells you how.

Mrs. W. A. Waring, 304 north Patrick Street, Alexandria, says: "I suffered awfully at times from my back and inflammation of the bladder. I used to be in such misery during these attacks that I had to have injections of morphine to relieve the pain. My back ached so badly that I thought it would kill me. The kidney secretions caused me terrible suffering and the pains in the top and back of my head nearly drove me insane. I often got so dizzy that I could hardly keep from falling and I felt sick all over. Nothing did me any good until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at E. S. Leadbeater's & Son's Drug Store. The first box gave me great relief. I used several boxes altogether and they stopped that awful pain in my back and head and made my kidneys normal. Since then, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills as soon as I have noticed any signs of kidney disorder and they have never failed to give me quick relief."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy— get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. W. A. Waring, had Foster Millburn Co., Prop., Buffalo, N. Y.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

At all druggists.
